

Davis+Gilbert Recognized as a Top U.S. Media Law Firm in Media Law International's 2021 Rankings

For the fifth consecutive year, Davis+Gilbert has been ranked by Media Law International as a Tier 1 law firm for media law in the United States. MLI's rankings are based on qualitative research that includes objective market analysis from law firms, clients and other industry participants. Led by Ashima Dayal and Jim Johnston, the firm's Intellectual Property + Media Practice Group was praised by clients, who noted that the counsel provided "creates long-term value" for them, especially due to the firm's ability to "balance clients' legal needs against business demands."

---

About Media Law International

Media Law International is a leading guide to leading media law firms around the world. The annual publication provides comprehensive coverage of firms and practitioners with media law expertise, across 56 jurisdictions, as well as country-specific intelligence reports outlining market trends and developments.