

New York City Bar Association Webcast | Hot Topics in Privacy & Data Security Law

Gary Kibel, Davis+Gilbert Privacy + Data Security partner, is the Program Chair of the New York City Bar Association's Privacy & Data Security Law program. He will host a webcast session titled "Hot Topics in Privacy & Data Security Law: California and other state laws" to be held on May 6.

Program Overview

A panel of experts will provide practical guidance to help any organization better manage its information gathering, dissemination and use practices.

Privacy and data security issues continue to be primary concerns for every industry. The security threats keep increasing, and the legislative/regulatory landscape on the federal, state and international levels keep changing. Every client and attorney should be familiar with general privacy principles and laws that apply in order to properly maneuver in their industry. This session will provide an overview of the hottest issues in privacy and data security law, including:

- California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA) and California Privacy Rights Act (CPRA)
- Digital media industry response
- Compliance in regulated industries
- Virginia, Colorado and other states
- Federal and foreign privacy legislation

Davis+Gilbert has arranged for a 50% registration discount for friends of the firm. To take advantage of the promotional rate, please contact NYCBA customer service at 212.382.6663, let them know you were invited by Davis+Gilbert and would like to register with the discount. Please note all non-attorneys are entitled to register at the discounted member rate.

For more information, or to register, visit the event website.

Related People

Gary Kibel
Partner
212 468 4918
gkibel@dglaw.com