Overview

Benjamin Snow simplifies the tax aspects of transactions and supports clear, confident decisions by focusing on the bottom line. He assists a broad variety of clients in mergers, acquisitions, joint ventures and financings.

Bringing business sense and practicality to every deal, Benjamin spots opportunities and resolves tax issues before they become problems. He excels at fine-tuning and negotiating tax considerations to resolve issues with accountants and opposing counsel. Clients appreciate his ability to present clear choices and lay out the benefits and potential downsides of different arrangements. He works with the team every step of the way to get deals done.

Benjamin represents the interests of buyers and sellers, controlling and minority partners, and debt and equity issuers and recipients. His background in executive compensation and corporate work, along with his experience in corporate taxation, helps him see options and pitfalls that others may miss.

Before joining Davis+Gilbert, Benjamin was an executive compensation and employee benefits associate at Paul Weiss. He was also a tax associate at White & Case, where he focused on international investments and financial products.
